PREFACE

This work is a part of the assignment given to me by the Chairman, Department of Library Science, University of Dhaka for the academic session 1982-1983. Here I have made an attempt to focus on the "Index of Wise Words published in Bangladesh Observer during 1982 to 1984." I have approached the issue from two sides: subjectwise and authorwise.

Now a days, a number of intelligent readers find enough pleasure to retrieve moral strength from the sayings of the Great man. It not only gives the knowledge seekers pleasure, it also helps them develop vocabulary.

I believe that this index, which has been meticulously organised, will help these readers who pursue pleasure with intelligence.

However, this is basically my work and hence all its limitations are mine.

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T S

I owe my heartfelt and profound gratitude to Mr. S. M. Mannan, Supervisor of this work and Lecturer of the Department of Library Science, University of Dhaka for his inspiring, valuable suggestions, affectionate guidance and constant supervision in all stages of this work.

I also express my indebtedness and gratitude to Mrs Afifa Rahman, Chairman, Department of Library Science and to other respective teachers who encouraged me to undertake the study.

I am particularly grateful to Mr. Abu Bakr Siddique, Librarian BUET, Dhaka and Mr. Muhammad Abdus Sattar, Librarian BICH, Dhaka for their constant inspiration and valuable suggestions in compiling this thesis.

Finally, I would like to express my appreciations to Mr. Nur Muhammad, Documentation Officer BIDS Library, Dhaka and Mr. Golam Rabbani who typed out the index within a specified time.

INTRODUCTION

In our endeavour, first of all, we have to know the meaning, importance and implications of wise words. To my opinion it will perhaps not be irrelevant if I provide the meaning and importance of wise words.

Wise Words are very useful to gain moral strength. From the very beginning of human civilization till to-date, a large number of experts in various fields have become immortal due to their beneficial contributions to this world. These wise words are the selected collections of the contributions of experts to the human store of knowledge. If we follow these words, our life will be happy and peaceful in this world and hereafter. The people who have been frustrated in life will sure success in it. The collection has been intended for all category of persons including students, politicians, social workers, professionals, young and old etc.

The topic of my dissertation, " Index of Wise Words", is quite interesting one and I am glad to have been assigned with such an important and valuable work by the Chairman, Department of Library Science, Dhaka University.

Wise words may have been quoted in many Newspapers and Journals but in preparing this index, I collected wise words only from the Bangladesh Observer, a local daily issues covering the period from 1982 to 1984, in comply with my assignment.

This issue contains about 937 wise words, and these have been arranged subjectwise given in the table of contents. Under each subject, entries are arranged alphabetically in the order of Author, Title, the name of the paper, pages, column, date, and year. To help easy access to each entry, serial numbers are given to each entry. All the names (Hindu, Muslim, Christian and western names etc.) of the writer are entered under last part (surname) as per general cataloguing rules. Besides standard abbreviations have been used in the index. A Author index is given also at the end of the work.

This index is of immense importance in knowing about wise words. Intellectual and cultural progress are the common heritage of mankind and everyone should derive benefit from it.

In my humble capacity, I have tried my best to make this paper presentable. I shall feel myself fortunate if it becomes of any use to any one interested in it.

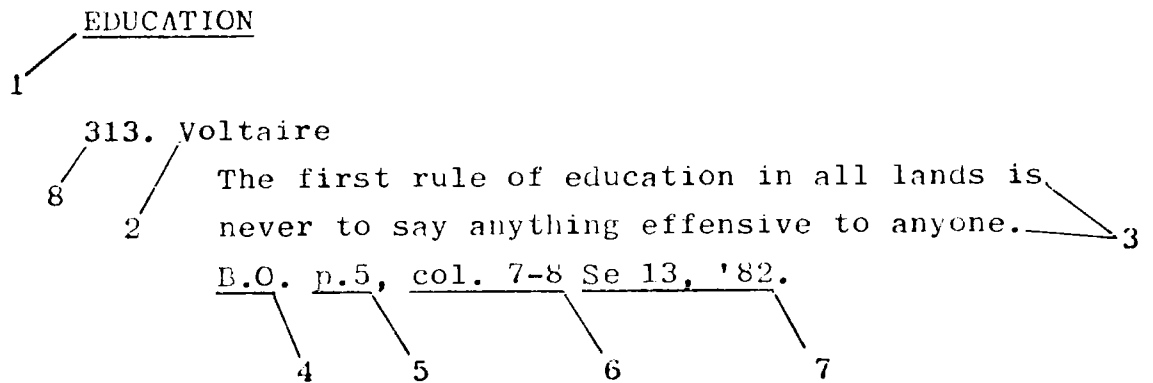

Admitting the errors and limitations, I leave my paper for the judgement of my teachers.
